

Additive Manufacturing Financing

Fast, reliable funding from SLM Solutions and Key Equipment Finance

From traditional fabrication and production to additive manufacturing solutions, we can empower your equipment and working capital.

Keep your cash flowing

Because the real value of business infrastructure comes from use rather than ownership, purchasing your assets outright can cripple your capital. Now SLM Solutions offers an alternative that creates a prudent path to profitability.

Create a competitive edge

Financing provides built-in flexibility, which allows your organization to stay nimble. Some of our plans include mid-term and end-of-lease options to accommodate the rapid pace of technology, and master lease agreements to allow for growth and expansion.

Bottom-line benefits

- Preserved cash and credit lines
- Flexible, customized payment terms
- Increased budgeting efficiency
- Ability to add or upgrade equipment
- 100% financing – no large, upfront down-payment requirements

Enhanced financial performance

Simplify your budget management and forecasting with monthly payments fixed at the onset of the agreement and aligned with future revenue. By paying for your equipment as you use it, you can better employ your assets through a variety of products:

- Fair Market Value (FMV) leases
- Capital leases ($1 purchase option)
- Progress payments
- Total solution financing¹
- Customized structures, including early termination options

Assets we finance

- Additive manufacturing equipment
- Packaging and plastics
- Machine tools
- Flexographics
- Food processing
- Finishing equipment

The Key difference

- 44 years of equipment financing experience
- Industrial market expertise
- Dedicated support for the additive manufacturing sector
- Centralized legal, credit, tax and underwriting specialists
- Fast turnaround time
- Nimble credit model / efficient processing
- Structured transactions
- Coverage throughout the US and Canada

A powerful partnership

A pioneer in additive manufacturing systems, SLM Solutions is among the fastest growing companies in the metal sector. By teaming up with one of the largest bank-based equipment finance providers in the US, we offer outstanding industry expertise with a client-focused, consultative approach. By enabling your equipment to work harder, we can help your organization succeed in all economic climates. We look forward to working together.
